Letter from the Director

New Services for All in the Community

Providing services to those who want to improve their English language skills is one of the goals in our long range plan. People often ask us about ELL services, but we have not yet been able to put together a sustainable program to address this need. We are pleased that we will soon be adding a new staff member who will focus on developing services for the English Language Learner (ELL) community. We will be networking with community groups, looking at what kind of programs would work best in our space and what resources these groups will need to succeed. We will also be promoting our language

Margaret Cardello,
Library Director

learning database, Mango, which provides content for anyone who wants to learn a language. If you or someone you know would like to volunteer to help please contact me at 508-624-6901 or mcardello@marlborough-ma.gov

At the same time we are working on ELL services we will be addressing two other goals in our long range plan this spring, a new website and a community calendar. The website will provide us with a better platform to share information about the library and all the resources that are available 24/7, including databases that provide magazine and newspaper articles on anything you want to read about and our free e-book collection that you can download and read on your personal device. We will also keep you up to date on what's happening at the library.

Our new website will also debut the Marlborough Community Calendar. Non-profit event organizers will be able to enter details about their community events to tell more people about all that is happening throughout the City every day of the week!

Summer Reading Begins in June!

The Summer Reading theme has been announced and this year's focus is science!

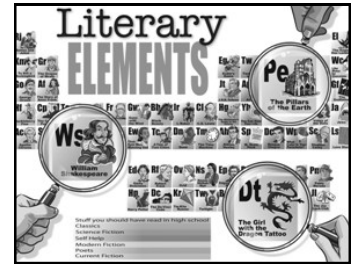

Children: Fizz, Boom, Read

Teens: Spark a Reaction

Adults: Literary Elements

Join us on Saturday, June 21st from 1:00-4:00pm for our Summer Reading Kickoff Celebration! Stop by the Children's Room to enjoy some snacks and strike a pose with our photo booth. Check out the new Teen Room, which will be right off the downstairs foyer. While you're there, unleash your creativity by making SteamPunk jewelry and taking cover selfies. What's more, don't miss your opportunity to meet a real robot! At 2:00pm, a scientist from iRobot will be conducting a phenomenal presentation on robotics (robots included!). Before you leave, make sure to sign up for the other spectacular summer programs we have planned! Registration tables will be set up in the downstairs foyer.

Growing Green Gardens

Spring reminds us all to stop and celebrate the new growth in the earth as the grass begins turning green and flowers start to bloom. All April long we will be highlighting books about earth sciences, including geology, seismology, gemstones and more. Check out books such as Why hell stinks of sulfur : mythology and geology of the underworld by Salomon Kroonenberg (NEW! 551.11 Kro), Reading the rocks : the autobiography of the earth by Marcia Bjornerud (551.7 Bjo), and The year without summer : 1816 and the volcano that darkened the world and changed history by William K. and Nicholas P. Klingaman (551.2109 Kli).

On April 22nd at 7 pm in the Bigelow Auditorium, join us for Solar Power in the Home: Learn How to Make Your Own Clean Solar Power. There will be an employee of New England Clean Energy from Hudson, who will present about the solar energy industry, technology, and benefits of home use.

The celebration continues in May when the focus will switch to gardens and gardening. Whether you're growing vegetables or flowers in a window box or landscaping a whole yard, there are plenty of books to inspire your green thumb. Try books such as Planting : a new perspective by Piet Oudolf and Noël Kingsbury (715 Oud), Paradise lot : two plant geeks, one-tenth of an acre, and the making of an edible garden oasis in the city by Eric Toensmeier (635.0917 Toe), or Landscape ideas you can use : how to choose structures, surfaces & plants that transform your yard by Chris Peterson (712.6 Pet). Also, make sure to join us for a gardening demonstration by a local certified horticulturalist, who will demonstrate how to set up and maintain a small, organic vegetable garden. Make sure to check the calendar for more information!

Join our Book Club!

Improving Your Job Application: Interview Skills

In a follow-up presentation to the Resume Writing for Adults Workshop, which was held on March 27, Gary Gekow will be hosting an Interview Skills for Adults Workshop on Thursday, April 17 from 6-8 pm in the Bigelow Auditorium. The workshop will be an interactive and informal question and answer session, including how to avoid the most common interview mistakes. Participants will also gain experience interviewing through role-play, preparing you with the best answers for common questions.

Writing Group for Adults

April 18th, May 16th, and June 20th
All meetings are 9:30 am-12 pm

Spring into Summer

In June we will be kicking off the Adult Summer Reading program, focusing on Literary Elements! Keep an eye out for information about programs and prizes. Events will include crafts, game nights, and more! Discover and celebrate your inner scientist with books such as The scientific Sherlock Holmes : cracking the case with science and forensics by James F. O'Brien (363.25 O'Br), The disappearing spoon : and other true tales of madness, love, and the history of the world from the periodic table of the elements by Sam Kean (546 Kea) and Operation Paperclip : the secret intelligence program that brought Nazi scientists to America by Annie Jacobsen (NEW! 940.54 Jac).

New Teen Room Coming Soon!

This spring, we are making a Teen Room right at the library! Teens will be able to hang out, check out a laptop, play videogames on our WiiU station, and use our creativity lab (decided by survey). Teens are invited to participate in this design process, build the creativity space, and create art to decorate the room. Attend the workshops below to participate!

Teen Room Design Workshop: Interior Design

Tuesday, April 22nd at 6-8 pm

Eric Moore, Principal Architect from Lamoureux Pagano & Associates, is leading the Teen Room Design Workshop. Come to learn about the best use of space and basic design elements! View different library teen rooms and discuss what you like and don't like about them. Then, for the last hour, work in a group to create your own design board for our Teen Space. All design boards will be displayed online where teens will vote on their favorite design! Registration is required: <http://bit.ly/AprilDesignWorkshop>

Teen Room Design Workshop: Creativity Labs

Thursday, April 24th at 6-8 pm

Lynn Faust, Executive Director of the Marlborough CDC, is leading this workshop on the Creativity Labs for the new Teen Room. Learn how to put together a creativity lab and effectively use a budget to maximize the use of the labs. Come up with the dream list of equipment and software that we will need to purchase for the new creativity lab, decided by the results of our Teen Room Survey. (Survey ends Friday, April 18th) Registration is required: <http://bit.ly/AprilCreativityLab>

1 Fill out the Teen Room Survey! (open until Fri. April 18th): <http://bit.ly/teenspacesurvey>

2 Attend the two Teen Room Design Workshops and/or volunteer to paint, set-up, and create art for the new room! (April-June)

3 Vote online for your favorite design! (May)

4 Vote for the name of the new teen room! (June)

5 Attend the grand opening on June 2st at 1pm at the Summer Reading Celebration!

All events above require registration at <http://bit.ly/MarlboroughLibraryEvents>

Spring into a Good Book

The weather is finally getting warmer, so let's read some picture books about spring! Take a look at the book list binder (located in the play area) for more suggestions of spring books.

And Then It's Spring by Julie Fogliano

Simple text reveals the anticipation of a boy who, having planted seeds while everything around is brown, fears that something has gone wrong until, at last, the world turns green. (J PIC FOG)

Spring Things by Bob Raczka

Winter melts into spring with the sights and sounds of hopping and skipping, sowing and mowing, and blading and

lemonading. (J PIC RAC)

Mouse's First Spring by Lauren Thompson

When Mouse and Momma venture outside, they discover the many changes that spring has brought along with the two things that never change with the seasons—Momma's love for him and his love for his momma. (J PIC THO)

From Our Shelves to Your Player

Our new music categories are ready to go! Check out some new highlights from some of the sections:

Classical:

(CD Classical Mes) Quartet for the End of Time – Oliver Messiaen

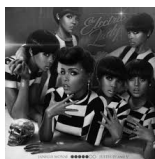

A chamber work composed and premiered in a German prisoner-of-war camp during WWII, Quartet for the End of Time portrays the terror, intensity, and beauty of the Book of Revelation.

Jazz:

(CD Jazz San) Arturo Sandoval – Dear Diz, Every Day I Think of You

A 2012 tribute to Dizzy Gillespie, this album won Cuban trumpeter Arturo Sandoval the Grammy for "Best Large Jazz Ensemble Album".

Pop/Rock:

(CD Pop/Rock Mon) Janelle Monáe – The Electric Lady

Janelle Monáe's 3rd album presents parts four and five of her Metropolis concept series. Taking influences from everybody from James Brown to Philip K. Dick, Monáe presents the story of a renegade android through a blend of genres, resulting in a totally unique and catchy sound.

Folk/Blues:

(CD Folk/Blues Joh) Robert Johnson – The Complete Recordings

This compilation, put together in 1990, contains every recording Robert Johnson made before his death at age 27 in 1938. Johnson was well known for his incredible (some say unearthly) talent and his blues guitar work has influenced countless musicians over the years.

Have something you'd like to see added to the music collection? Email Amanda at amcsweeney@cwmar.org!
