Grants for New Libraries

In addition to all the positive comments we receive about our services and staff, people often tell us about the difficulty finding a parking place in our lot, the lack of quiet space to read, study or write, and their disappointment that many of our programs often reach capacity so quickly. We hear this kind of feedback just about every day in one form or another. We recently put up a suggestion box to solicit even more comments.

We are just about to take the first step on the road toward a new library. The

Margaret Cardello, Library Director

Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners, the state agency that supports libraries, has announced a Planning and Design grant round. These grants provide up to $50,000 for libraries to work with their communities to plan a new library. The last time these grants were offered was 2006. The grant provides funds to prepare a "building program" which is a detailed written plan of what needs to be in Marlborough's new library and funds to work with an architect to draw what the building program describes.

This grant would set us up for another future grant that would fund a significant portion of the costs associated with a new library.

The grant awards will be announced in June 2014 and then the work begins. As you think about what a new Marlborough Public Library must have, please e-mail me your thoughts at mcardello@marlborough-ma.gov. I look forward to hearing from you!

Learn a New Language in the New Year!

If you haven't visited Mango before, but are interested in learning a new language, what better time to do so than the start of the new year! On Jan. 15th, big changes are coming to the program with a more intuitive, user-friendly learning experience. So, even if you have visited before, you may want to check it out again and see the new additions.

All you need is your library card to create an account, and then you'll have access to:

- 60 different languages
- Placement tests in the most popular courses to help you find the right starting point
- Self-paced programs
- Mango Premiere to learn a language through feature films and other foreign language multimedia

And more!

You can also go to the app store and search for "Mango Languages" to download the free Mango Mobile app on your iPhone, iPod Touch, and Android.

You'll find the Mango icon at www.marlboroughpubliclibrary.org

Writing Through the Winter

Whether it is reports or memos at work, or thank you notes, texts, and blog posts, everyone writes almost every day. But even in today's fast paced world of technology and constant contact, it is still pretty easy to feel out of touch or like you just cannot find the right words to say. It seems especially difficult to find ways to really connect with friends and family that you do not get to see everyday, or to market yourself when establishing business contacts. Whether by e-mail or handwritten letters, having the right words can make all the difference in getting your message across clearly and concisely.

These winter months, when the nights are long and the snow piles high, are the perfect time to brush up your writing skills. It is a great time of year to check in with your family and friends, or get ahead on some extra work that will really make you stand out. Even if you have been writing for years, it is always a good idea to practice and read about a variety of communication styles to keep your ideas fresh and your skills polished.

Get inspired to write for every occasion by checking out some of our books on letter writing such as: The Art of the Personal Letter by Margaret Shepherd (808.6 SHE), Kind Regards: The Lost Art of Letter Writing by Liz Williams (808.6 Wil), Just Write: The Art of Personal Correspondence by Molly O'Shaughnessy (808.6 O'sh) and For the Love of Letters: the Joy of Slow Communication by John O'Connell (NEW! 808.6 O'Co). Ask a reference librarian for help identifying more books to suit your needs.

B.L.T. Book Group Now Open to Adults

Young Adult literature has been thrilling teen and adult audiences for a long time. Even before series like Harry Potter, the Hunger Games, and Divergent became the hits they are today, literature about teens and the struggles they face has always resonated with adults. But adults rarely had any open forums to discuss their favorite pieces of teen literature, especially those outside the mainstream.

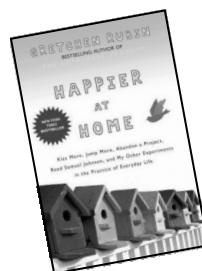

Now, the B.L.T. Teen Book Group at the Marlborough Public Library is open to adults as well as teens. Anyone ages 13 and up who loves young adult literature is welcome to join the discussion. The group meets the last Tuesday of each month (except July and December) and group members select the genres, so there is always a variety of interesting books. Anyone interested in joining the group can visit the circulation desk to pick up a copy of the month's book.

Join Our Book Club!

From Our Shelves to Your Player

Check out some of the newest additions to our music collection!

K. Michelle – Rebellious Soul (2013) Brand new R&B with an old school sound, strongly influenced by Whitney Houston and Mary J. Blige.

M.I.A. – Arular (2005) Described as “intensely urban and aggressively modern” the album combines elements of everything from rock to hip-hop to world music.

Edith Piaf – The Voice of the Sparrow (1991) One of the most famous French singers, Edith Piaf sang such classics as La Vie En Rose.

Neutral Milk Hotel – In an Aeroplane Over the Sea (1997) A classic of '90s indie rock, In an Aeroplane Over the Sea combines folk singing and storytelling with experimental and psychedelic instrumentals.

Kanye West – Yeezus (2013) Kanye West's newest album includes collaborations with everyone from John Legend to Skillex.

Exciting Changes to Our Music Section!

Beginning this month, we will be dividing our Popular music section into several more specific categories. This will make it easier for patrons to browse through their favorite genres and find new music and old favorites. Look for the following new categories over the next few months!

Want to be Part of our Website User Testing Group?

We're in the final stages of redesigning our website and we would like to invite you to join our Website User Testing Group before we share the site with the public. It is really easy to do: we will give you a list of questions that you can answer on our new website. You will be asked to let us know how easy it was to find the answers and give us suggestions on how to make the website as user-friendly as possible.

If you are interested in participating, please register here: <http://bit.ly/MPLwebsite>
Testing will begin in February/March.

Please Note:

Dates are subject to change. Please see our website calendar for the latest program information.
