Hi Rob,
I have owned 123 Chestnut Street for 12 years. For 11.5 years the sign out front said "no parking here to corner". It was changed in September because of "an existing parking regulation".
There are very good long term tenants in this building. Some families have lived there for as long as I've owned it. This new sign is causing an undue hardship for them. While they used to have to juggle cars or find alternate parking in the winter months, it has become an every day occurrence.
We know the housing stock in this neighborhood was built long before there were 2 income, 2 car families. Are there any remedies available to alleviate this situation?
Thank you

The signs that were up, were on Chestnut Street on either side of Franklin Street and stated "NO PARKING HERE TO CORNER". The Traffic Regulation in place is for "NO PARKING ANYTIME" on the north side of Pleasant Street, from Chestnut Street in a westerly direction to a sign located approximately 50 feet westerly from Franklin Street. The old signs were removed and more appropriate sign were erected along this section of Chestnut Street.

Councilor Tunnera,

No new regulations were added on Chestnut St. recently, and there has been an existing regulation in place restricting parking on Chestnut Street on the north side from Pleasant St. to Sumner St., which is where I believe 123 Chestnut St. is located. My guess is that the DPW must have recently replaced some signs in that area to comply with existing regulations.

Subject: Question from a resident

Hi Chief,

I hope all is well, do you have any info I can share with this resident regarding the change

Hi Rob,

At 123 Chestnut Street there has always been a sign on the front lawn that said "No parking here to corner". Now it has inexplicably and without any notice been changed to "No parking this side". Do you know what has happened and why?

Thanks

Let me know,

Thanks

Rob
